CLIENT: ENGLISH INSTITUTE OF SPORT

“We recently worked with Elite Performance Partners on two specialist Director performance roles. We needed to carry out a global market evaluation under very tight time constraints.”

“Their ability to understand our requirements and pressures whilst not cutting corners with their level of thoroughness and professionalism was exemplary. Their deep understanding of the market coupled with their performance background and experience makes them unique in the sports recruitment market and meant that they added true value to the process.

I would not hesitate in recommending them to other sports organisations and I look forward to working with them again in the future.”

Nigel Walker – National Director of the English Institute of Sport
